The expression and evolution of my art is a reflection of my soul's unfolding, revealing its intricate and innate sense of who I am and where I come from.

"In Art, the hand can never execute anything higher than the heart can inspire."
— EMERSON

"The Art of Soul Expression" speaks to my desire and intention to be present with each moment, to open my heart and to express my authentic, Creative Self. This theme is one I also bring to my clients for whom I endeavor to guide them through their fears, blockages and self-defeating behaviors using art and energy to initiate and inspire their process.

My work is a collective of life experience, energy, emotion, and a vision of worlds beyond our own. For me, it breaks through the walls of limitation, liberating my spirit. It is my hope that my work excites and stimulates the senses, evokes a place within its viewer that encourages the desire to open one's self to their unimaginable untapped potential and initiates a step that both challenges and overrides the ordinary, familiar and comfortable. May it restore a sense of play and spontaneity which tends to be forgotten, overshadowed by the mundane and responsibility of adulthood. I promise you, this part of us is never lost and is longing to be rediscovered.

Each piece of my art is an adventure into the Unknown, a process of self-discovery. It is my wish that my art will mystify, captivate and delight you.

Perhaps it will ignite your passion — whatever that may be. Perhaps it will touch your heart with gentle healing or give you the proverbial nudge that is the impetus to take a risk and explore what is missing in your life. Perhaps, as it is my greatest hope, it will inspire you to take a step closer to the living the life that you love!
